

ENGLISH

The bachelor's degree in English is designed to prepare the student for a variety of occupations which require a professional level of knowledge and skills in English, such as print editing, technical writing, lyrical and fictional authorship in a variety of fields (such as journalism, publishing, advertising, public relations, business, medicine, law, and politics). Completion of this degree will also prepare the student for service as an effective communicator in multicultural settings and for graduate studies in English and related fields.

Expected Outcomes for English Majors

Upon completion of this program, students will be able to:

1. Engage literary selections - fiction and non-fiction - with appropriate academic rigor to enhance personal, academic, and professional endeavors.
2. Identify and apply essential literary terminology.
3. Write effectively for a variety of purposes and in a variety of genres.
4. Apply the rules of Standard English usage.
5. Apply universals of language structure to any language they encounter.
